Profumo Type Scandal Inquiry Rocks Canada

OTTAWA (AP) — Liberal Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson has dared the Conservative opposition to try to throw him out of power over the alleged security scandal involving a German beauty queen and former Conservative Cabinet members.

Over angry roars from the opposition in Parliament, Pearson said Friday night he had ordered a secret, full-scale judicial inquiry into the case, which threatens to explode into a scandal as big as the Profumo affair that rocked Britain.

Pearson indicated that the inquiry will examine charges made last Thursday by his justice minister, Lucien Carlin, that Cabinet members under the Conservative regime of ex-Prime Minister John G. Diefenbaker were linked with Gerda Munsinger. Carlin said she was a former Communist spy.

Hiding

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — Gerda Munsinger, figure in a Canadian political scandal, kept herself behind locked apartment doors today and refused to see reporters.

The manager of the apartment house, located in Munich's Bohemian Schwabing district, asked reporters to leave because other tenants were complaining. Police cleared the sidewalk and entrance.

Pearson read into the record charges by Carlin that Diefenbaker had mishandled the Munsinger case. The speaker of the

FBI Nabs Two In Industrial Secrets Plot

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — The FBI has broken what it says was a plot with international overtones, to sell industrial secrets worth millions to the DuPont Co.

An FBI spokesman said the case was broken when E. I. duPont de Nemours & Co. reported it had been offered secret formulas of competitors. An unemployed truck driver and a chemical engineer were arrested by the FBI.

The FBI said Friday that $42,500 was sought from the Wilmington chemical firm for data jointly owned by the B. F. Goodrich Corp., Akron, Ohio, and the Montecatini Corp., Milan, Italy. The formulas were said to involve a new process for synthetic rubber, but no details were disclosed. Montecatini, a big chemical manufacturer, is regarded as a competitor of DuPont in the world market.

Both DuPont and Goodrich declined comment after agents arrested the two men — one in a motel near Wilmington, the other in Cleveland, Ohio. Both men live in the Cleveland area.

Wilbur A. C. Pierce, 27, was held in $10,000 bond for trial in U.S. District Court in Wilmington on a mail fraud charge. Earl Bush, 29, was held in Cleveland under the same bond on charges of mail fraud and interstate transportation of stolen property. Neither posted bail.

Pierce described himself as an unemployed truck driver. Bush is a graduate chemical engineer and worked for B. F. Goodrich from August 1960 until last December, authorities said.

The FBI said Pierce made the alleged offer in a letter sent Feb. 4 from Lorain, Ohio, to DuPont's headquarters in Wilmington.

The letter contained part of the data allegedly stolen from the files of a Goodrich plant in Avon Lake, a Cleveland suburb, the FBI said.

The FBI quoted Montecatini officials as setting the value of the secret formulas.

U.S. Judge Kent Sentences Four

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Four persons were sentenced Friday in separate cases before U.S. District Judge W. Wallace Kent.

Patrick F. Durbin, 51, of Comstock, was ordered to serve 18 months in custody on conviction last month of forging a $50 government check April 23, 1965, in Kalamazoo.

Leroy Smith, 54, of Berrien Springs, was sentenced to two years in prison on each of two counts of acquiring marijuana without having paid a federal tax, the terms to run concurrently. He had pleaded guilty to the offenses which took place last fall in Berrien County.

Dale H. Pullen, 28, of Union City, was placed on probation for three years on a charge of forging a $75 government check March 9, 1964, at Battle Creek.

Roy Lee Powell Jr., 23, of Tucson, Ariz., was sentenced to two years in prison on conviction of transporting a stolen car last Dec. 16 from Morgantown, W. Va., to Kalamazoo.

Flyers Rescue 6 More From Ashau Battle

DA NANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. Marine search helicopters found two more American Special Forces troopers and four Nung tribal soldiers Saturday who survived the battle of the Special Forces camp as Ashau.

This makes a total of 157 men recovered from the camp which fell to an enemy regiment Thursday evening.

Military authorities in Da Nang identified the five Marine helicopter crewmen who were rescued Friday.

They are: Lt. Col. Charles A. House of Santa Ana, Calif.; 1st Lt. Joseph Weiss, Hutchinson, Kansas; Sgt. Schuyler Puchett, Orange, Calif.; Sgt. George Mayne, Havelock, N.C., and Sgt. Robert E. Leathan of Jacksonville, N.C.

They were in a rescue helicopter shot down at the camp Thursday.

They linked up with a group of the camp's survivors who had made their way out and fled into the jungle.

Chicago Wins Hearts Of GI's With Cold Beer

CHICAGO (AP) — A cold beer will soon be waiting in Viet Nam for troops marching past State and Madison Streets, jungle version.

Cool beer, soft drinks and juices will be on hand as the troops emerge from the steamy jungles.

The thanks go to an Army sergeant from Chicago and his mayor, Richard J. Daley.

Sgt. Raul Garza of the 5th Cavalry regiment requested an ice cube maker in a recent letter to Mayor Daley.

First, Daley sent Garza signs of the famed State and Madison intersection in downtown Chicago, along with the city's flag.

He said he would get right to work on that ice machine. Friday, 20 offers of ice cube makers came into the mayor's office. One will be selected for the troops.

"All we are waiting for is the Air Force to transport it to Viet Nam," said Col. Jack Reilly, Daley's special assistant.

GOP May Gain U Board Control

LANSING (AP) — Republicans are in a position today to assume their first majority on the University of Michigan Board of Regents in more than a decade.

Republican Gov. George Romney has the constitutional authority to fill the unexpired term of Democratic Regent Eugene Power, who resigned Friday after an attorney general's report on Power's business and official relationship to the university. Power's term expires Dec. 31, 1971.

Romney's office, however, refused to speculate on a possible successor or even to acknowledge Power's announced resignation.

"Officially, we haven't been told he has resigned," said legal aide Robert Danhof. "Power would have to submit his resignation to the governor, and he hasn't received it."

Power is president of University Microfilms Inc., which has been providing services to, and receiving them from, U-M since 1938.

Daily Wants Power

The firm became a wholly owned subsidiary of Xerox Corp.

Meanwhile, the U-M student newspaper, The Michigan Daily, which set off the original inquiry last October, urged in a front page editorial today that Power be retained.

The editorial asked that steps be taken by the Legislature to end the conflict of interest "and insure his (Power) continuing service as chairman of the board of regents."

The publication reported that "high sources at the campus reported (Friday) that several

New Leader Has Non-Red Label

KUALO LUMPUR, Malaysia (AP) — The man now reported in control in Indonesia, Lt. Gen. Suharto — he has no first name — is a tough-looking soldier who talks softly.

The combination could prove to be Suharto's most valuable asset in the critical period facing him.

Know for his calmness under pressure, the 45-year-old army man came into the limelight when he rallied army, navy and police forces to crush the Communist-led coup attempt last October.

Suharto, who had been head of Kostrad the army strategic command, was named army commander to replace Achmad Yani, one of six generals tortured and slain by coup supporters.

Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution, then defense minister and armed forces chief, was injured while escaping a rebel squad. A longtime friend, Nasution supported Suharto's role as leader of the forces that broke the back of the coup. Suharto began an immediate crackdown on Communists. He neutralized the Halim air force base, used by coup forces as an operating center.

Suharto then took over active control of the army. Two days later President Sukarno officially installed him as army chief. When Sukarno reshuffled his Cabinet last Feb. 21, ousting Nasution and several other non-Communist military figures, Suharto remained unaffected.

Since then, angry students have demonstrated almost daily against Sukarno and against Communist China but the troops under Suharto's command reportedly have done little to stop them.

This tacit support of the students, plus his strong actions against the Communists, make Suharto appear to be anti-Communist.

Klan Leaders Facing Trials

WASHINGTON (AP) — A leading Ku Klux Klan official faces trial June 13 on contempt of Congress charges.

Trial date for Robert Shelton, the imperial wizard of the United Klans of America, was set Friday when he and six other Klan officials pleaded innocent at their arraignments before U.S. Dist. Judge Bernita Shelton Matthews.

Trials for the other six defendants were set a week apart, running from Oct. 3 to Nov. 3. The seven men each posted $500 bond and were released after fingerprinting.

Shelton, 36, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., and the other six were indicted for contempt of Congress after failing to produce Klan records last October during appearances before a subcommittee of the House Committee on Un-American Activities.

In addition to Shelton, those appearing for arraignment were James R. Jones, 38, of Granite Quarry, N.C., identified as the grand dragon of North Carolina; Robert Hudgins, 32, of Gary, N.C., imperial kladd or conductor; Robert E. Scoglin, 43, of Spartanburg, S.C., grand dragon of South Carolina.

Also, Calvin Fred Craig, 37, of Atlanta, Ga., grand dragon of Georgia; Marshall R. Kornegay, 37, formerly of Raleigh, N.C., grand dragon of Virginia; and George F. Dorsett, 48, of Greensboro, N.C., chaplain organizer for a North Carolina Klan province.

Romney Fetes 50 Children

LANSING (AP) — A feast for 50 will be enjoyed by youngsters at the Los Angeles Children's Hospital as guests of Gov. George Romney.

Romney made a bet of a dinner of all Michigan products with California Gov. Pat Brown on the outcome of the Rose Bowl football game, lost by Michigan State to UCLA on New Year's Day.

The dinner, to be served March 17, will be flown from Michigan Tuesday.

Gen. Suharto Keeps Sukarno As Figurehead

SINGAPORE (AP) — Lt. Gen. Suharto, Indonesia's new strongman, dissolved and outlawed the Indonesian Communist party today in the name of President Sukarno, Jakarta Radio announced.

Informants said that the shape of developments in Jakarta indicated Suharto, the Indonesian army chief, was firmly in control and that Sukarno, now apparently only a figurehead, had little chance of staging a comeback.

Suharto spoke and said he had no intention of moving Indonesia's political outlook either to the right or extreme left.

"It is already left," Suharto told a meeting of high government officials at Sukarno's palace. Parts of the proceedings were taped and broadcast over the Indonesian government radio.

Sukarno Loses Power — Sukarno spoke first and said he was ordering Suharto to take control of the country and to maintain peace and order.

In another broadcast, the radio said Suharto today ordered the dissolution of the Indonesian Communist party. It said the order was signed by Sukarno.

Reliable sources in Singapore said earlier that Sukarno apparently had handed over political power to Suharto and remained in office only as a figurehead.

The sources, who are in constant touch with developments in Indonesia, also said the pro-Peking foreign minister and first deputy premier, Subandrio, had been dismissed and had left Indonesia.

But the Indonesian government radio said Subandrio attended the meeting at Sukarno's palace and the announcer referred to Subandrio as first deputy premier.

Suharto For Nasution — The Singapore sources said they have not yet been able to clarify whether Sukarno was forced to let Suharto take power but they said present indications are that the 64-year-old president had yielded to pressure from the army.

They said Suharto is a firm supporter of former Defense Minister Gen. Abdul Haris Nasution whom Sukarno dismissed last month. Suharto's appointment indicated that army forces loyal to Nasution had decided to move against Subandrio and Sukarno in response to violent student demonstrations, the sources added.

The sources said Suharto had thrown thousands of heavily armed troops into Jakarta, the Indonesian capital, to prevent any resistance from pro-Communist supporters of Subandrio. Jakarta radio announced today that the armed forces were staging a military exercise in the capital "as a show of force."

U.S. Ambassador Marshall Green reached by telephone in Jakarta by the American Broadcasting Co., said Indonesia's political troubles were being handled in a "peaceful and favorable manner." The ambassador said he expected the military authorities to move against the leftists and added the army planned a parade in Jakarta as a "show of unity."

Wednesday Set To Debate Road

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney, local officials and the Highway Department and Commission will thrash out controversial I-696 Wednesday in Lansing.

Romney has invited mayors and other officials of 18 affected communities to the meeting.

One route for the freeway from Southfield to St. Clair Shores was abandoned this week by the Highway Commission.

"In light of recent developments... I feel it is of immediate importance for me to obtain the complete picture including the viewpoints of affected communities," said Romney.

The 18 communities are Southfield, Lathrup Village, Oak Park, Huntington Woods, Pleasant Ridge, Royal Oak, Ferndale, Hazel Park, Madison Heights, Warren, Centerline, Roseville, St. Clair Shores, Berkley, East Detroit, Birmingham, Clawson and Fraser.

Gemini Check For Tuesday Starts Tonight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Gemini 8 astronauts, said by doctors to be in fine physical shape, huddle today with project officials to review all aspects of next week's daring space flight.

Reports will be made on readiness of all major factors — the two rockets involved in Tuesday's doubleheader launching the spacecraft, mission control center, worldwide tracking network and recovery forces.

Following the conference, astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and David R. Scott planned a long session in a spacecraft simulator in the control center, rehearsing various phases of the three-day journey.

They will concentrate on the two most exciting aspects: the attempt to catch and hook up with an Agena space vehicle on the first day and Scott's space walk of nearly 2½ hours on the second day.

An Atlas-Agena is to hurl the Agena into orbit at 10 a.m. (EST) Tuesday. The astronauts are to ride a Titan 2 into space at 11:41 a.m. to start the dramatic 3½-hour pursuit.

Armstrong, a civilian, and Scott, an Air Force major, underwent their final major physical examination Friday and were pronounced ready to go.

Gemini 8 flight surgeon Dr. Fred Kelley said after the 4½-hour exam: "Both the command pilot (Armstrong) and the pilot are considered physically ready for flying from a medical standpoint — very much ready."

Scott is one of the healthiest and strongest of the astronauts — which is a major reason he was selected for the space walk endurance test.

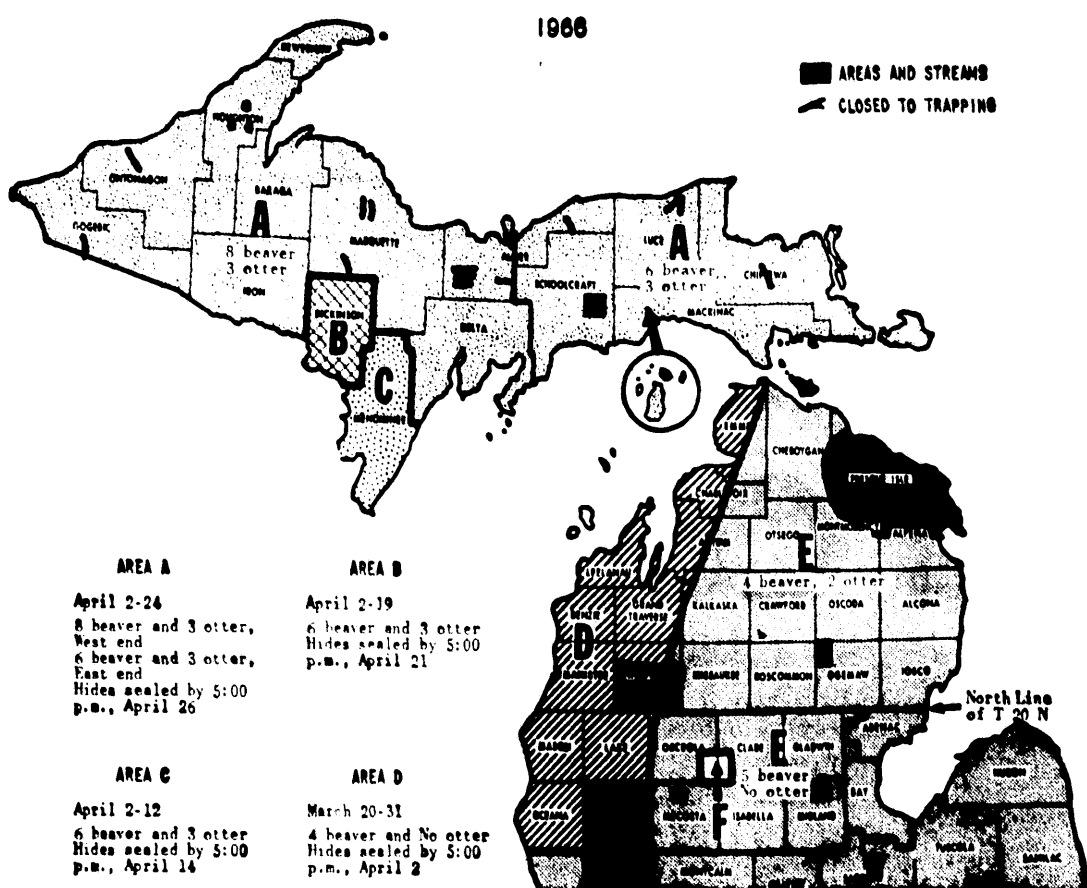

The weatherman forecasted satisfactory conditions for Tuesday's planned launch.

A THREE-DAY FLIGHT in Gemini 8 spacecraft during which they hope to rendezvous with an unmanned space capsule will be taken next week by Neil Armstrong, left, command pilot, and his co-pilot, David R. Scott. They continued their preparations today at Cape Kennedy, Fla., Space Center where they went through a number of dry runs. (AP Wirephoto)

Job Corps Has U.P. Work Camp

By LAWRENCE R. GUSTIN
Flint Journal Staff Writer

IRONWOOD (AP)—"Mister, we're for anything that will bring people into this area," a local gasoline station attendant said when asked his reaction to the Ojibway Job Corps Conservation Center.

Eventually the center will bring some 225 underprivileged and undereducated youths to the western Upper Peninsula, an area which has seen too many people and industries leave in recent months.

The camp's bright green buildings are set in a clearing in the timber country near the Wisconsin border. It is the site of a government experiment to conserve two natural resources—youth and land.

Presiding over the camp and its staff of 36 is John V. Lupis, 28, one of the youngest directors of a Job Corps center in the nation. Like most of his staff, Lupis came from the U.S. Forest Service.

"None of this staff was ordered to work in the Job Corps," he said. "You couldn't do it unless you really believed in it. We're all working harder than ever before, but it's a genuine challenge and I love it."

Opened Dec. 8
The Ojibway center, opened Dec. 8, is for youths 16 to 21 who have been out of school for at least three months, who have a poor home environment and who do not have the skills to get a job.

"Some of these kids never drank milk before," Lupis said. About 12 of them can't read or write and a lot of them don't know how to use eating utensils.

Different from urban centers such as the one at Ft. Custer, the Ojibway camp is designed to raise the educational level of each boy to at least the ninth grade, making him eligible to join an urban center for job training.

The atmosphere is like that of an Army camp, a discipline Lupis said the boys need and appreciate.

The youths march in formation to their various work sites, have Saturday morning inspections and assemble in formations after meals.

Each boy is given clothing and often the first medical examination of his life when he enters the camp. He receives $30 a month to spend and an additional $50 is put away for him.

Govt. Matches
If the boy sends $25 per month home the government will send another $25. Later, the boy receives $75 for civilian clothing.

About half of the week is spent on basic academic courses and the other half on conservation projects such as building campgrounds and clearing streams.

Discipline is under the demerit system, penalties being administered for such infractions as failure to wear a belt, smoking in bed, failing asleep in class and failure to join the morning exercise group.

The boys' backgrounds vary from center of rural poverty to the slums of cities such as Detroit, New York and Chicago.

They vary from resentful and homesick boys to youths like Walter Jones who graduated from a Job Corps center last June, took a training course and now is on the staff at Ojibway.

"Someone gave me a break and I'm going to give some other guys a break," he said. Some area residents admit to worrying about the center's impact on their towns and having the youths come into town during the evening.

"But most of them don't stop here because there isn't much to do," a Marquette woman said, adding, "Those who do come seem polite enough."

Lupis said one of the major problems in the past was the screening of candidates. He said some joined because they were ordered to.

YOUTHS AT THE Ojibway Job Corps Conservation Center at Marquette near Ironwood march in formation to their various work sites. The center, opened last Dec. 8 is for youths who do not have the skills to get a job or the education to join the Army. The camp is designed to raise the educational level of each boy, whose backgrounds vary from rural poverty to city slums. A similar effort for girls will be opened at Northern Michigan University, Marquette in June with the nation's first on campus Job Corps Center for girls. (AP Wirephoto)

Beaver Trapping Prospects Good

Given a fair shake by the weather, Michigan beaver and otter trappers should have just about everything going for them when they start laying out their sets April 2 in the Upper Peninsula, and March 20 downstate.

Compared with last year, the worst season for trapper take and numbers since 1949, prospects point to higher fur prices, generally better trapping conditions, and more beaver in most parts of the state, the Conservation Department reports.

The pre-season picture, coupled with liberalized beaver regulations, is expected to swell the state's trapping ranks this spring. Department license officials look for 4,000 - 4,500 trappers this season compared with about 2,700 in 1965.

Weather Factor

Much, of course, still depends on the weather. If Michigan doesn't get blitzed by heavy snow in the next few days and temperatures continue to moderate, conditions should be almost ideal when trapping begins.

With a good break from this big "it," most streams and ponds should be open and their levels fairly stable, all to the liking of trappers.

Joe Vogt, Escanaba, Conservation Department game biologist, said "prospects appear good" for the beaver and otter trappers this spring.

"The early break-up should help the trappers," he continued. "Deep snow hampers their operations but conditions are very good this year in most areas of the Peninsula."

Good Supply

There should be a good supply of beaver and otter, he said. There have been a large number of complaints about beaver being a "nuisance," damming up ditches or streams and causing flooding, indicating they are fairly numerous.

The few areas closed to trapping in the Upper Peninsula is also an indication that the animals are in good supply.

Other high hopes of trappers are tied to reports that the entire fur-buying market is following a bullish trend. Latest indications are that beaver pelts should bring higher prices than a year ago. In 1965, blanketed beaver went for only about $15.

As a result of increased demands for fur in this country and from western Europe, prices for otter pelts should remain good, perhaps edging up from last year's average of $28.

The 1966 season's trapping regulations are designed to produce a generally higher harvest of beaver and a lower take of otter.

Season Longer

Compared with last year's regulations, the new bag limits and season lengths for trapping beaver are more liberal in the western Upper Peninsula, in several counties along the southern tier of the northern Lower Peninsula, and in Kalamazoo and St. Joseph counties in southern Michigan.

For otter trappers above the Straits, bag limits will be the same as in 1965 while the season will be longer. In the northern Lower Peninsula, otter regulations have been tightened except in the northeastern corner of the region where otter remain abundant.

Area A, comprising most of the Upper Peninsula, has a season opening at noon, April 2. Eight beaver and three otter is the bag limit in Keweenaw, Ontonagon, Baraga, Gogebic, Iron, Marquette and Delta, and in Alger County west of the west line of R 18 W. In the rest of the A area the limit is six beaver and three otter.

Area B, Dickinson County, has a bag limit of six beaver and three otter; and Area C, Menominee County, is also six beaver and three otter.

North Central Has Best Year

In 1965, North Central Airlines achieved the greatest year of growth and earned the largest profit in its history. Hal N. Carr, president, stated in the company's annual report. Revenues reached an all-time high of $33,891,031. Net earnings were $1,138,752—35 per cent ahead of 1964.

The airline earned the record profit for 1965 despite a $780,000 return of excess profits to the federal government under the class rate for regional airlines. North Central's record commercial revenues combined with its effective cost control program placed the company in this profit-sharing position for the fifth consecutive year.

North Central broke all traffic records in 1965 as passenger boardings exceeded 1964 by almost 20 per cent and cargo increased 31 per cent. Some 263,599 more passengers were flown during the year than in 1964. This is the highest passenger increase ever achieved by the airline. Northliners carried a record 1,616,900 passengers in 1965.

A 10-jet program was announced by the company in July 1965. The airline has ordered Douglas DC-9 jet aircraft for inauguration of service on its system early in 1967. The agreement with the Douglas Aircraft Co. includes an initial purchase of five of the new 100-passenger twin-jets, including parts, at a cost of $20 million and an option for five additional aircraft.

During 1965, a $17-million line of credit for financing the airline's jet acquisition program was established with a group of 15 banks at an interest rate of 5 1/4 per cent. This extremely favorable rate was obtained because of North Central's strong financial position—the best in its history.

Cows Underfed In Early Milk Time

Most milk cows in Alger County are underfed grain in the early part of their milking period and overfed grain in the late part of the same lactation, said Jack Little, U. P. Extension dairyman, at the forage institute held in Chatham, March 9.

Little said that Alger County dairymen have been breeding to high production sires for over 15 years and that most dairy cows have high production breeding, but do not get enough feed during the early part of their milking periods to reach their high production potential. On some farms dry cows and bred heifers are often neglected prior to freshening time.

Council Members Tell Harnischfeger:

Thanks For Those 200 New Escanaba Jobs!

Escanaba's city councilmen thanked Harnischfeger Corp. at a meeting with Harnischfeger managers in the council chambers of City Hall late Friday for the selection of Escanaba as the site for a large expansion of P&H production facilities for truck cranes, shovels and welding machines.

President Henry Harnischfeger earlier Friday announced that the company would expand its production capabilities at its Escanaba plants by one quarter in the next year in a multi-million dollar project "Green Light" which will create 200 new jobs and add $1,250,000 a year to Harnischfeger's $6 million Escanaba payroll.

The City of Escanaba is participating in the project by investing $950,000 of its $1,008,000 gas utility fund in expanding the big Danforth Road truck crane plant. Harnischfeger will build the addition and sell it to the city, which will, in turn lease it back to Harnischfeger under a 25 year purchase agreement.

Investment Pays More
The arrangement will enable Harnischfeger to put its expansion capital into job-making production facilities. It owns the big Danforth Road plant and it will acquire the big new addition from the city through monthly lease payments that will total $58,620 a year in the purchase agreement.

The city will increase its earnings from the funds it received from sale of its gas utility (for $725,000 last June to Michigan Consolidated Gas Co.) from the present approximate 4 percent on government securities. The city will get 4.75 percent return for the next 10 years by 3.75 percent interest payments plus real and personal property taxes on the new plant addition. City Controller Frank Bourke told councilmen that the full term income from the agreement should be 5.5 percent.

City councilmen, in statements solicited by the Escanaba Daily Press, stressed that the side benefits in taxes, jobs and community income from added payroll were more important than the increase in income which the city will receive directly from its investment in the new plant housing.

Mayor George W. Rusch:
"The City of Escanaba is most gratified at the selection of Escanaba (by Harnischfeger Corp.) as a site for the expansion of their product lines. Escanaba was selected from a list of cities throughout the United States. In addition to our select geographic location in the Upper Peninsula the expansion was predicated on our fine community — the schools, churches, our municipal facilities, ideal recreation location and — most important — our fine people."

"It is true the city is participating heavily in this expansion, and rightly so, in order to aid in the immediate creation of over 200 jobs."

THERE WAS exchange of congratulations at City Hall council chambers in Escanaba late Friday with announcement by President Henry Harnischfeger of the Harnischfeger Corp. that it would expand its production facilities in its Escanaba plants by one-quarter and create 200 new jobs. The City of Escanaba is participating in the project with lease-sale of the new plant addition to the company. From confidence in this investment." Councilman H. George Nelson: "This Harnischfeger expansion is one of the best things that could happen to the citizens of Escanaba. No other announcement could do the community so much good."

"The citizens often think we, as councilmen, are not doing anything toward bringing industry to Escanaba. Those are things that cannot be brought to public attention until they are actual facts, but we are working all the time for more industry and for the betterment of Escanaba."

"Look how many more jobs will be created, how much more taxes (city, county, and schools) will be collected and that helps keep our taxes low. We have been working on this since last November and are working on others, but it all takes time. We, as citizens of Escanaba, should be jubilant and really rejoice that this expansion program is going to be a fact now!"

Elma Lantagne Taken By Death

Mrs. Elma P. Lantagne, 74, of Rte. 1 Escanaba died at 9:05 a. m. Friday at St. Francis Hospital. She had been in ill health for the past six years and seriously ill for two months.

Born Dec. 22, 1891 in Iron Mountain she had been a resident of Delta County for 40 years. She was a member of the Holy Family Church of Flat Rock.

She is survived by her husband, Henry; four sons, Archie, Marquette, Edward of Rte. 1 Escanaba and Ned and William of Bark River Rte. 2; three daughters, Mrs. Lawrence (Angeline) LaMarche, Gladstone Rte. 1, Mrs. Victor (Fidilia) LaFave of Escanaba and Mrs. Arthur (Pearl) Levesque of Rte. 1 Escanaba; one sister, Mrs. William (Delia) Jarvis of Crystal Falls; three brothers, Joseph and Peter Plourde, Cornell, Ned of Gastra, Mich., 43 grandchildren and 55 great grandchildren. A son, Arthur, died Jan. 29, 1964.

Friends may call at the Alto Funeral Home Sunday from 3 to 9:30 and parish prayers will be recited at 8 p. m. Sunday. Complete funeral services will be held at the Holy Family Church at 10 a. m. Monday. The Rev. Thomas Andary will officiate and burial will be in Holy Cross Cemetery.

School Projects Approved For Federal Funds

POWERS-SPALDING — The Powers-Spalding Public School was notified that its Teacher Aide project submitted under the provisions of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act had been approved for payment.

The project will enable the school to hire two additional teacher aides to work in grades 3, 4, 5, and one period in the high school so that the regular teachers in these grades can spend extra time with students having difficulties.

The project will run to the end of this school year and will be financed with funds available through the Elementary and Secondary Education Act. Total cost of the project is approximately $1,240. Mrs. Betty Veaser and Mrs. Bernice Wieciech have been hired for the project for the balance of this school year.

Plans are also being made to conduct a Summer Remedial Reading Program for students in grades 3, 4, 5, and 6 for both public and non-public school children. It is estimated that approximately 60 youngsters will be involved in this project.

In addition to that, a pre-school program for children who will be starting kindergarten next fall is in the planning stage. It is estimated that 40 youngsters will be involved in this project.

Preliminary plans call for the program to run for six weeks. Classes will meet three days a week from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. Transportation and hot lunch will be a part of the program.

Improvement Of M-35 Requested

Rep. D. Jacobetti (D-108th District) has introduced a resolution in the Legislature requesting that the Highway Commission and Department take immediate action to improve the condition of M-35 from Rock to Palmer.

Jacobetti said the resolution also requests that M-35 be widened, repaired, removal of stumps, bumps and potholes, the removal of considerable reduction of hazardous curves, elevation of roadbed and substitution of two-lane bridges for the existing one-lane spans.

Jacobetti said that traffic over the highway has increased because of the K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base, travel to the Empire Mine and to and from cottages on lakes in Forsyth Township.

Jacobetti said he is making plans for a member of the Highway Department and a member of the Department of Commerce to meet with members of a Forsyth Township Committee to inspect M-35 from Rock to Palmer.

Rock

The Rev. S. John Bohn was installed Sunday, March 6, as the new pastor of the Rock Faith and Perkins Bethany Lutheran churches. Dr. Theodore Mattson of Milwaukee, president of the Wisconsin-Superior Michigan Synod of the Lutheran church in America conducted the services.

Jail Ordered For Students

Two Escanaba young men will by order of Municipal Court spend at least the next 15 days in the Delta County jail—except for the hours they are in school.

They are Gary Carlson, 18, of 1422 N. 20th St., and Richard Christensen, 17, of 1223 N. 16th St., both of whom entered pleas of guilty on Friday to charges of breaking and entering John's Market at 228 Stephenson Ave., at 12:40 a. m. Saturday, March 5.

Escanaba police arrested the two youths after an investigation that involved two juvenile boys, 16 and 15 years old, who are being referred to Juvenile Court for disposition of their cases.

Carlson and Christensen admitted that the four entered the store by opening the door with a stolen key and made off with a case of beer.

The Court ordered Carlson and Christensen to pay fines of $50 and costs of $5 each and to spend 30 days in jail, excluding time in school. They will have 15 days cut from their jail term for good behavior.

Officers investigating the offense reported that a number of boys and girls were involved in consumption of alcoholic beverages at house parties. The investigation is continuing.

Commission For Lakes Urged By Water Council

WASHINGTON (AP) — Creation of a Great Lakes River Basins Commission has been recommended to President Johnson by the Federal Water Resources Council.

Henry P. Caulfield Jr., the council's executive director, announced the unanimous recommendation Friday.

He said the governors of Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana, Minnesota, and Ohio had requested establishment of the commission and the governors of Pennsylvania, Illinois and New York concurred.

Under the 1965 Water Resources Planning Act the commission would conduct resource planning within those portions of the eight Great Lakes states drained by the St. Lawrence River system. This area includes the Great Lakes, their tributaries, and the tributaries of the St. Lawrence located within the United States.

Meet Describes Forage Profits

By JOSEPH HEIRMAN

The importance of using the right analysis of fertilizer as well as the right amount per acre was stressed by Don Thurlow, Michigan State University soil specialist at a forage meeting in Powers Thursday.

He cited demonstration plot work done in Delta and Menominee counties on the Hilding Olson and Oren Berto farms, respectively, with barley that was seeded with a companion crop of alfalfa-brome. Several different analysis of fertilizers were used and also different amounts to show yields would differ on barley in 1964 and on the alfalfa-brome in 1965.

The returns per dollar invested in fertilizer ranged from a low of $1.36 to $2.70. This tells farmers that time spent in getting representative soil samples tested and following fertilizer recommendations will pay big dividends. The day of guessing the amount of fertilizer to use on a given crop is gone. "Farmers cannot afford to farm that way any more," Thurlow said.

"The competition is too great," Leyton Nelson, MSU crops specialist discussed forage crops that could be worked into a livestock program. He said that farmers are covering too many acres for the amount of forage harvested. They need to produce more tons of forage per acre and using the right varieties can help. A French variety of alfalfa (DuPuits) will give two crops a year because it recovers very fast after the first cutting. Top dressing with fertilizer will also pay good returns for dollars invested.

Sorghums and sudangrass hybrids were also discussed. Nelson pointed out that they are not weather crops and therefore could not be recommended highly for this area. Birdsfoot Trefoil is a forage crop that should be given more serious consideration. Some soils that are rather shallow and damp will grow birdsfoot trefoil and once established it will last for years. This crop is important as pasture crop because it produces in July when so many grasses dry up. Reed Canary grass was also encouraged where the soil is very wet. This grass will produce a terrific tonnage per acre. Some farmers question the palatability of Reed Canary grass but when properly fertilized the cattle will have lush new growth continuously and will eat it.

Jack Little, Extension livestock specialist emphasized the importance of forage in a livestock program. He pointed out that top quality forage will reduce the amount of protein the farmer has to buy. High protein crops are difficult to raise in the Upper Peninsula and as a result are usually purchased. Little pointed out that good hay could reduce the protein requirement in the grain ration and save money for the farmer.

Name Five To Plan College Development

LANSING (AP) — The state has named five educators to develop policies for establishment of new community college districts in Michigan.

Dr. Ferris Crawford, assistant superintendent of public instruction, will serve as chairman. Other members are: Dr. Sigurd Rislov, Wayne State University; Dr. Max Smith, Michigan State University; Dr. Roland Strole, Western Michigan; and Dr. Raymond Young, University of Michigan.

The group was appointed by the State Board for Public Community and Junior Colleges, which advises the State Board of Education.

Harnischfeger Expands

Announcement by President Henry Harnischfeger that the Harnischfeger Corp. would increase its production facilities in Escanaba by 25 per cent, adding 200 new jobs within the next two years and $1,250,000 to the firm's $6 million annual Escanaba payroll, is great good news.

The City of Escanaba, which has been a business associate of Harnischfeger for the 19 years it has operated here—it is the firm's landlord at its Stephenson Ave. and 3rd Ave. N. plants—will finance the housing for the Harnischfeger plant additions on Danforth Road. The company will spend a larger sum on modern production facilities in the new plant. Harnischfeger owns the big Danforth Road truck crane plant.

The city now has its $1,008,000 gas utilities fund invested in government securities. It will use $950,000 of this money to buy from Harnischfeger Corp. a large addition to the truck crane plant which the company will build. The city will in turn lease the building to Harnischfeger, whose annual lease fees of $58,620 a year will give it ownership of the building in 25 years.

The arrangement permits Harnischfeger to use its own capital for production machinery to get maximum capacity from its investment. The city's participation makes possible an enlargement of the job creating potential.

The city was in competition with other communities which were asking Harnischfeger Corp. to expand in their areas and offering inducements to obtain the plant. Escanaba had an advantage in already being the site of large operations of the Harnischfeger Corp. and of having developed a friendly and mutually beneficial relationship with the corporation. Harnischfeger has in 19 years here grown a work force of a dozen or so to nearly 1,100 employees and its impact on the community has been one of the most important in its history.

Harnischfeger introduced heavy manufacture here in a community without a major tradition of metal working. It has trained a large work force and become an item of fascination for both sociologists and industrialists. It is one thing for the Upper Peninsula to progress industrially with extractive processes like mining and wood products, and another to progress with manufacture of machinery for which the materials have to be imported and whose markets are distant. Harnischfeger has succeeded—with a great deal of help from the Delta area community and the City of Escanaba—in doing this. Its success has been one of the greatest stimulants for Upper Peninsula hope of manufacturing growth. Whenever anyone, anywhere in the U.P. says: "You can't manufacture in the U.P.," the answer is very apt to be "What about Harnischfeger in Escanaba?"

And now, with a multi-million dollar commitment in plant expansion and introduction of new product lines, Harnischfeger shows its confidence in this area as a place for growth.

The City of Escanaba does well for itself as landlord. It will increase its income from its gas utility funds immediately from 4 per cent (in government securities) to 4.75 per cent (in lease fees and taxes) and average 5.5 per cent for the full term of the agreement.

The fringe benefits are even more important and impressive. The equivalent of a large new industry is being created by this expansion. The project brings challenge as well as income. The project calls for a plant modernization and improvement program that will be somewhat unsettling, but which should be welcomed for the opportunity that it brings to compete with other communities and to share the rewards of excellence. This is the real basis for job security.

Our city council has been venturesome and courageous in committing the city to this project. The search for industrial growth is a difficult one. It had some elements of secrecy until culmination because industry wants to be free to make a choice after all the facts are available.

Escanaba has not received a finer compliment than Henry Harnischfeger's statement that one of the major reasons his company decided to expand here was because of "the excellent climate created by city leaders". That's the carrot. He also said the decision was influenced by "assurances that if we gave the green light our Escanaba management could count on support of everyone in helping to increase and improve production." That's the stick. Both are helpful.

Finding The Way

A Time To Be Awake

By RALPH W. LOEW, D. D.

Three ladies were sleeping. The danger is that at just then as he turned in the other direction he saw another person, head nodding, about to sleep. It was astonishing to the man who told of it, for Dr. Theodore Ferris was attending a concert in Boston where he was hearing the eminent cellist Rostropovich. The music was of such crystalline purity that he could imagine the artist had plucked the depths and soared to the heights of the Haydn Concerto. But these ladies were sleeping.

It caused him to wonder as to their preoccupation, their own worries or their lack of understanding. Why did they sleep? The music was not dead. It was just that they were not attuned to it.

In the discussions concerning the life or death of God one can ask the same question. There is the danger that we shall judge the reality of the fact by our own situation. Our preoccupations, our worries and anxieties or our own insecurities can cause us to lose any sense of living presence.

As a matter of fact, one of the "death of God" theologians found in the mundane procession of events, such as growing older or giving up smoking, that he had to confront some new realities. He discovered that he wasn't hearing the old mu-

Milk Producers Assn. Reviews

Jugged Milk In Michigan

The Michigan Milk Producers Association is the cooperative bargaining agent for most milk producers of the Upper Peninsula, contracting with the dairy industries for supply of milk from its farmer members. The following article is from the MMPA's current Michigan Milk Messenger:

Milk from Milwaukee being sold in Detroit and some fantastic retail price juggling on the west side of Michigan are

Supplier

"During the past month, A & P, one of the large super market chains, awarded its milk business in nearly 100 stores to one dairy — Sealtest," reports the Michigan Milk Producers Association. "These stores are located on the western side of Lower Michigan from the Indiana state line to the Straits and into the eastern part of the Upper Peninsula."

"The milk is packaged by Sealtest under A & P private label. "This move really completed a swing in this direction started several years ago by the chain stores. Up until a few years ago these stores were served by local dairies or in some instances one dairy would serve all the stores in a particular area. Now nearly all the super market chains buy from one dairy and have their own private label."

"It is easy to see that a company awarding this much business has a tremendous bargaining power with a dairy and it is likewise obvious that only large dairies having area wide distribution are in a position to bid on this type business."

"If a super market chain uses milk as a loss leader or even decides to handle it on a very low margin, an abnormally low and unrealistic price becomes the established price in the area, putting further strain on the small or the medium sized dairy operator."

Two results of the State Supreme Court decision legalizing sale in gallon and bigger containers.

The "packaged in Milwaukee, Wis., tag appeared on gallon cartons of Sealtest milk in the dairy cases of Southern Michigan supermarkets. It was also being sold in the Upper Peninsula."

Reports that price war tactics had gallons of milk selling below a half dollar in the Grand Rapids and nearby areas came from numerous Michigan Milk Producers Association market committeemen and local officers in the western part of the state.

There was no firm information available on how much milk was actually put into gallon containers in Michigan, but there were numerous reports of dairies either packaging in gallons or getting ready to package in gallons. At least two firms with heavy Detroit area sales appeared ready to push containers larger than a gallon — the 10-quart "bag-in-a-box" dispensers for refrigerator shelves — in home delivery sales.

There were some indications that the gallon containers sold well, at least when they first went on the market.

But it was impossible to pinpoint any impact of the new packaging ruling on MMPA sales of bottling milk. The Association had reservations about changing the old law limiting retail sales to familiar-sized containers, but was not directly involved in the case which led to the unanimous Supreme Court decision making gallons legal.

It's still too early to say whether the "gallon and bigger" ruling will have any effect — good or bad — on MMPA sales of milk to packaging plants, or whether its long range effect will be beneficial or harmful to the milk industry as a whole.

Lawson Milk Co., one of the original gallon "juggers," is expanding from its home base in Ohio with plans for 250 "party stores" in the Detroit area. Indications are the intensive advertising to make the Lawson name familiar to consumers will be started. Numerous Lawson stores are already open, and offering milk in gallons.

Legalized Cuthroat

Price wars and cuthroat competition, even when caused by something as inevitable as the legalizing of big cartons in Michigan, are bad. If the retailers are pinched in the marketplace, they will surely try to pass the pinch on to the farmers.

Simple arithmetic tells why:

Sealtest pays $4.20 a hundredweight (almost 38 cents a gallon) to producers for milk bought in Milwaukee. At least some of this milk was on sale for 75 cents a gallon in Detroit. Out of the 37 cents difference between the price to Wisconsin farmers and the price to Michigan consumers must come the cost of packaging the milk, trucking it more than 350 miles, and other costs and profit for both Sealtest and the retail outlet.

By any standards, that's stretching the margin pretty thin.

More Ridiculous

The situation in Western Michigan is even more ridiculous. The Michigan Class I price is $5.03 a hundredweight, or about 43 cents a gallon to producers. At a retail price of a half dollar a gallon (and there were reports of milk on sale at even less than this) there is only a seven cent margin for the dairy and the retailer to make costs and profit. Container cost alone is about 5 cents a gallon.

Since MMPA sells no milk at retail, any effect on members has to be roundabout. But an unhealthy retail situation simply cannot be good for the wholesale situation. The Association did not and does not see anything inherently wrong in the high court decision to allow sale of gallon and bigger containers of milk.

It's what dairies and retailers do because of that decision that could cause problems for the farmer.

Percy Faces Tests

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Some seasoned political observers are saying these days that a November victory for Republican Charles Percy over Democratic Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois would catapult Percy to the top of the 1968 GOP presidential roster.

A telephone survey taken by this reporter among party leaders in 10 states, including five of the seven most populous, suggests that 1968 may be much too early for even a spectacularly triumphant Percy to go for the brass ring.

A couple of leaders think the Republican candidate situation is sufficiently fluid to make consideration of Percy wholly possible. Most of those queried say he has to prove himself in the Senate, assuming he can get there, before being measured as a White House prospect.

The fact that the 46-year-old Percy, the defeated GOP nominee for governor of Illinois in 1964, is talked of by anyone in these terms is some kind of gauge on the enthusiasm (or lack thereof) being stirred by the early season leaders for 1968: Richard M. Nixon and Michigan's Gov. George Romney.

Nixon still has to buck the persistent party complaint that he is a tired face, a twice-beaten man. Romney, though fresher on the national scene, continues to strike many politicians as a one-man faction, given to little sermons about the family and morality. An incumbent Republican governor said recently: "I'm not very charmed with the winter book."

Actually, Romney in recent weeks has had a couple of stunning party dinner successes—a fund-raiser in Denver and the other a Lincoln Day affair in New Hampshire, where he might have to plunge into the 1968 presidential primary if he were to enter the lists. New Hampshire's Sen. Norris Cotton, a 1964 Goldwater man, offered Romney surprisingly warm attentions.

Yet one or two old party hands quickly marked down Romney's Denver outing as "another boring morality speech," pointing up anew his nagging problem.

As for Nixon, currently fueling up in New York for a spring round of appearances for many 1966 GOP candidates, he evidently fanned no dazzling new flames on the Lincoln Day speech circuit. A feeling exists that he is riding on ancient momentum.

Thus it is that handsome Chuck Percy, still without political office, comes to be talked about.

One of the two leaders who said a winning Percy might rocket swiftly to presidential consideration sees it this way: "The 1964 Goldwater race scrambled the party situation badly. I don't see anyone clearly out in the lead for 1968. In such a circumstance, a fellow like Percy could be catapulted to the top in a year."

A supporting view came from an eastern leader who argued that today's "saturation treatment through television" can provide almost instant fame for an attractive personality like Percy.

vs. CLEVENGER

Some time ago a number of people urged me to return to the political arena and become a candidate on the Democratic ticket in the 11th Congressional District for Congress.

I served in the Congress from the old 12th Congressional District from 1935 to 1947. I was the Democratic nominee and candidate for the U. S. Senate in 1948 against Senator Homer Ferguson and was defeated.

I have sounded out the sentiment in the now 11th District and discussed the problems with the leaders and others, and have become convinced that the vast majority of people of the District feel that a native is better equipped to represent us in the Congress than one who has not lived here long enough to get acquainted with our needs.

Our economic and industrial structure has been too long neglected. We have vast power resources, together with an unlimited supply of water which is necessary for industrial development. It is a sleeping giant which must be awakened. With federal assistance now available there is no reason for us to be isolated from the industrial world.

Take for instance the pulpwood industry. It has been neglected by our representation in Washington, D. C. to such an extent that the price of pulpwood has become depressed so that it is no longer profitable to continue. There must be tariff protection if it is not to go the way of the iron ore industry on the western end of the Upper Peninsula. Many years ago I warned with the slogan "No More Ore From Labrador". The warning was ignored. The result is that all the iron ore mines in Gogebic County are closed. This must not happen in the pulp industry.

I find also that the Veterans are being ignored and veteran preference is being ignored. This must be corrected. I feel certain I will be nominated in August and elected in November.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 26-year-old girl who has a good job. I still live at home with my parents. They are very strict and insist that so long as I live under their roof I must abide by their rules — even if I stay here until I am 50.

Sunday a friend dropped by. I used to date Jim four years ago but now we are casual. My folks like him a lot. Mom asked Jim to stay for dinner, which he did. After dinner mom took me aside and said she and dad had promised to go see my aunt and that I should go with them. When I said, "I'd rather not," mom snapped "We will cancel before we leave you alone in this house with Jim."

I feel humiliated but I agreed to go. Now I'm furious with my mother for having done this to me. I need your views.—CHILD OF 26

Dear Child: It is at once pathetic and ludicrous that a 26-year-old woman could be ordered to come along to auntie's house because she must not be left alone with a man.

Your parents have made it plain, however, that as long as you live in their home you must do as they tell you. So stick to their rules, Toots, or move out.

Dear Ann Landers: What is wrong with an 11-year-old boy who is afraid to sleep alone? My brother gets up in the middle of the night and imagines that he hears things. He roams around the house and gets every one up. Last night he said somebody was trying to open his bedroom window. The only way to persuade him to go back to sleep is to let him into bed with one of his older sisters.

What should be done? This letter is from a sister who is writing for our mother who is terribly upset.—WAITING TO HEAR

Dear Waiting: Your mother should discuss the problem with a doctor. An 11-year-old who is afraid to sleep alone needs to describe his fears to someone who can evaluate them properly and help him overcome them.

The boy should NOT be allowed to get into bed with his sisters. This could create a whole new set of problems.

Dear Ann Landers: I am a 14-year-old girl who is trying to be a good person and act like a real lady. Something happened yesterday and I need your advice.

My friend (I will call her Marybeth) comes from a wealthy family. They have a cook and a maid who have worked for them for as long as I can remember. The cook is a different race. In fact I will come right out and tell you she is a Negro.

Yesterday I was in the drugstore with a girl friend. When I saw Marybeth's cook in the drugstore and I said, "Hello, how are you?" she was very pleasant and answered me nicely.

After she left the store my girl friend told me I had committed a big error by greeting the cook as if she were a friend. According to her, servants should not be spoken to in public. We have never had any servants and my mother doesn't know about such things. She suggested I write to you. What is right?—E.E.L.

Dear E.E.L. A lady speaks to EVERYONE she knows. Your friend is not only ignorant but she sounds like a snobbish little pain in the neck. Are you sure you want HER for a friend?

Today is Saturday, March 12, the 71st day of 1966. There are 294 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1917, the Russian Revolution began.

On this date
In 1871, the German Army left Versailles.

In 1871, the German Army left Versailles.

In 1912, the Girl Scouts of America was founded.

Ten years ago—Nineteen senators and 81 representatives presented to both houses of Congress a manifesto in which they pledged to use all "lawful means" to reverse the 1954 Supreme Court decision banning segregation in public schools.

Five years ago—Eighteen Congolese political leaders proclaimed a new confederation of states to replace the central government of the Republic of the Congo.

Governors Meet Johnson Today In Viet Briefing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most of the nation's governors meet today with President Johnson and his top advisers at the White House today to chat informally about the war in Viet Nam.

All 50 governors were invited to the briefing. More than 40 accepted. Press secretary Bill D. Moyers said he expected a variety of issues, both domestic and international, to come up for discussion.

No discussion was set, Moyers said, and "no subjects are off limits."

But the war in Viet Nam was expected to dominate the conversation. Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara were to be on hand, apparently to aid the President in outlining latest developments in Southeast Asia.

Moyers said no new major policy decisions would be disclosed to the governors. The President met Thursday and Friday with chairmen of House and Senate committees. Those meetings, like today's, were very informal, Moyers said.

The series of meetings were described as an effort by the President to keep leaders posted on administration policy, particularly in Viet Nam.

Johnson conferred with Rusk, McNamara and other top administration officials and foreign policy advisers in advance of today's briefing.

The White House said only a few governors were unable to accept the President's invitation. One of those was Gov. John Connally of Texas, whose office said he had prior commitments.

The President planned to meet first with the nine-member executive committee of the National Governor's Conference, then confer with 12 governors from Appalachian states to discuss steps to improve economic conditions in their areas. Next was a buffet luncheon and the briefing for all governors.

In other Viet Nam-related developments:

—The House Appropriations Committee approved the administration's request for $13,135,719,000 in supplemental appropriations to conduct the Viet Nam war and provide economic aid for Southeast Asia. The measure goes to the House floor, where approval is expected Tuesday.

—Three Republicans on the Appropriations Committee accused the administration of underestimating defense needs in the 1966 and 1967 budgets.

Rep. Glenard P. Lipscomb of California, Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin and William E. Minshall of Ohio also predicted more money will be needed.

The emergency appropriation "demonstrates a growing lack of planning which could, if not altered, produce serious risks for the future security of the United States," they said in a joint statement.

—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said the United States will remain in Viet Nam until conditions permit genuine free elections. Humphrey told the National Press Club he does not think Communists could win South Vietnamese elections.

Hold Carpenter In Pistol Slaying

COLDWATER (AP) — Police today arrested a man they described as a "slight, gray, mild-appearing" carpenter following the pistol slaying Friday night of a 31-year-old Coldwater divorcee.

Arrested in Justice Court and bound over to Circuit Court was H. Leroy Fry, 47, of Coldwater. Prosecutor Lowell Kelly charged Fry with murder.

Mrs. Annie Church was shot fatally in the chest, police said, by a man who chased her from her house into the back yard.

Coldwater Police Chief Rex Wiser said Mrs. Church was shot following an argument.

JAMES GERRITSEN, 23, of Grand Rapids, who last month had the first major surgery by a new procedure involved a "freeze-thaw" method for blood plasma, which was developed by University of Michigan doctors to save the lives of hemophiliac patients, gets ready to leave for home today. (AP Wirephoto)

Inflation Talk Spur To Search For A Control

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Talk about inflation, present or impending, is spurring a two-pronged search. One is for all signs of inflation. The other is for methods of warding it off or controlling it.

As the cost of living rises and the pundits argue about the meaning of this, here are some answers to questions that may be bothering you:

Q — What are today's signs of incipient inflation?

A — The unemployment rate is 3.7 per cent of the labor force, lowest since November 1953. Skilled labor shortages are appearing, sending overtime payrolls up. Unions are raising their wage demands. Output per man hour of labor is increasing only slowly now, where it was zooming upward a year or two ago. Many raw material prices have edged up. Firms are building up inventories, some fearing either shortages or further price increases ahead. Demand for finished goods has taxed the capacity of some industries and delivery times are being stretched out as order backlogs mount.

Q — What about the monetary signs of inflation?

A — Interest rates are rising as the demand for loans increases despite a marked increase in the supply of money and credit since last summer. Consumers are spending a larger percentage of their income and saving a smaller share — although personal income has soared so high that the totals for both spending and saving are at record highs.

Q — What steps are the money managers taking to ward off inflation?

A — The Federal Reserve Board has raised interest rates. It also is tightening money by shrinking the free reserves which banks can use to make loans to business and to consumers. The idea is to restrain mildly the urge to borrow and to spend.

Q — What is the government doing about inflation?

A — Asking Congress to increase tax collections this year. This would leave less for individuals and corporations to spend now. The President also is urging labor and management to observe guidelines holding down wage and price increases.

Q — What is proposed beyond the steps already taken?

A — The President is asking the Congress to be ready to vote higher taxes quickly if inflation becomes obvious. This would leave less money to chase the available goods. Some think the Federal Reserve should make money and credit still tighter. This would involve still higher interest rates to discourage borrowing, whether to build a new plant, buy a new car or to buy a new home by means of a mortgage.

Q — But if in the days ahead wholesale and consumer prices rise still more rapidly, what is likely to happen?

A — Some consumers might put off buying high-priced goods, especially those they can easily do without. Business might hold up some of its plans for building plants or buying new equipment. Demands for higher wages to meet rising prices would become more insistent. Price increases on American goods could cut U.S. exports, swell the deficit in the balance of payments, and weaken the status of the dollar.

Dr. Levy, 79, Gets Draft Bid

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Draft board clerks couldn't believe their eyes when Dr. Louis Levy, a Charlotte optometrist, presented a draft notice and joked he was going to join the Marines. He is 79.

The mixup started, Dr. Levy said, when a South Carolina board sent him a letter ordering him to register. He ignored it. After all, he registered for the draft in World War I and hadn't lived in South Carolina for 30 years.

Then he received a second notice and thought he had better check. A Selective Service spokesman said that Dr. Levy's name somehow got on a list of optometrists available for military service.

Probe Of Grand Juror Rejected

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel Olsen has rejected a request for an investigation of one-man grand juror Edward S. Piggins on grounds he broke his oath of secrecy.

Olsen acted Friday, concurring in findings of his chief assistant, Samuel Brezner, that Piggins had not broken his oath as claimed by Justice of the Peace George R. Perry of Nankin Township.

Perry, for whose removal Piggins petitioned Gov. George Romney Dec. 1, contended the one-man grand juror violated a state law by making a statement published Feb. 2 in a newspaper.

Detroit Area Parks Sought

LANSING (AP) — The Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority has asked the Conservation Commission to deed it control of the Pointe Mouille area for development as a greater Detroit recreation site.

Authority members told the commission the area at the mouth of the Huron River is one of the few left where it is possible to get desirable acreage on Lake Erie.

"We want to interest the department in the development of recreation for the metropolitan area," said Thomas Welsh of St. Clair Shores, authority chairman.

The area taken in by the authority, he said, has more than half the people in Michigan but the Conservation Department spends only about 10 per cent of its budget on it.

The authority controls 10 parks and beaches in Macomb, Livingston, Washtenaw, Oakland and Wayne counties.

The authority proposed the Conservation Department lease or transfer the some 220 acres it owns at Pointe Mouille. The authority then plans to purchase enough acreage to round out a some 450-acre tract.

Authority members estimated the private land purchase would cost some $300,000. By 1980, they said, up to $10 million might be spent on the area.

William Reid, land supervisor for Consumers Power Co., said Consumers plans to sell an even dozen of the 28 dams it still holds throughout the state.

The Conservation Department, he said, will be given the first chance to bid on the dams and their sites where it is interested.

Now in the process of negotiation, he reported, is the sale to the department of three dams on the Kalamazoo River for $1 each. These are the Trobridge, Plainwell and Otsego dams.

Adler Death Is Termed 'Tragic Loss To All'

DETROIT (AP) — Words of condolence and praise poured in from across the country as preparations were made for the funeral Sunday of Rabbi Morris Adler who died Friday of gunshot wounds from an assassin's pistol.

Rabbi Adler was shot on the dais of his Shaarey Zedek Synagogue a month ago as 600 horrified worshippers watched. Richard Wisniewsky, 23, a brilliant young man with a history of mental illness, then turned his gun on himself and inflicted a fatal head wound.

Rabbi Adler was widely known across the country as a scholar and Jewish leader. He was chairman of the United Auto Workers Union's Public Review Board.

Lewis H. Weinstein of Boston, president of the Council of Jewish Federations of Welfare Funds, said Friday night in New York that the 59-year-old rabbi's death "is a great and tragic loss to all of us," and added: "He was a giant in his leadership of our people and his nation."

Clevenger Gets COPE Backing

DETROIT AP — Some 600 representatives from Michigan and Ohio met here Friday to map 1966 political strategy at an area conference of the AFL-CIO political arm, the Committee On Political Education COPE.

Sessions were closed to newsmen. Al Barkan of Washington, D. C., the COPE director, was here.

Michigan AFL-CIO officials on hand told newsmen their priority will be given to re-election of four Democratic freshmen Michigan congressmen. The four are:

Weston E. Vivian of Ann Arbor, a winner by only 1,500 votes in a Democratic landslide for President Johnson; Paul H. Todd of Kalamazoo; Raymond F. Clevenger of Sault Ste. Marie; and Billie S. Farum of Drayton Plains.

THIS IS THE Presque Isle steam electric generating plant of the Upper Peninsula Generating Co. at Marquette, the largest power facility in the Upper Peninsula.

Biggest Station Bigger

U.P. Generating Adds Unit No. 4

Upper Peninsula Generating Co.'s Presque Isle Station at Marquette, has a new enlarged appearance with the installation of generating Unit No. 4, which will add another 58,400 kilowatts of capacity.

John H. Warden, president, said work on the addition of the new generating unit is on schedule and when placed in operation this fall will bring the potential output of the station to nearly 10 times its capability when it started operation in 1955. Ground was broken for construction on April 19, 1965 and completion is expected this fall for a total of less than 20 months construction.

With a present capacity of 120,000 kilowatts, the Presque Isle steam electric generating station already is by far the largest power facility in the Upper Peninsula and north of Green Bay. The 58,400 kilowatt capability of Unit No. 4, being added at an overall cost of approximately $8 million will bring the total capacity of the plant to nearly 180,000 kw. The steady expansion at the Presque Isle Station, said Warden, is part of our long range program to assure an adequate supply of economical and dependable electric power to keep pace with the growth of the area and will certainly be an important factor to help stimulate even greater development.

The Upper Peninsula Generating Co., which was organized in 1953, is owned jointly by the Upper Peninsula Power Co. and the Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. While a portion of the output from the Presque Isle Station is taken by the power company for the increasing electrical energy needs of its some 32,000 customers in eleven of the 15 counties of the Upper Peninsula, the large quantities of electric power required by Cleveland-Cliffs Iron Co. in its rapidly expanding iron ore pelletizing program in Marquette County have been largely responsible for this early addition of Unit No. 4.

The design and engineering of the generating station, from its inception to the present date has been under the supervision of Stone & Webster Michigan, Inc., and much of the construction has been done by Upper Peninsula firms.

well," the newspaper said.

The Star's correspondent Robert Reguly, reported that Mrs. Munsinger said she was willing to return to Canada to testify at an inquiry "if they keep pushing my name around."

A Canadian government spokesman said he was certain every effort would be made to bring her back for the inquiry. Reached at his Munich hotel, Reguly said Mrs. Munsinger had left her apartment to avoid being disturbed and to get some rest. He said she was staying near Munich, but he would not say where.

Cardin confirmed that he had told one newspaper the case was worse, in some respects, than Britain's 1963 Profumo scandal. He did not elaborate.

Britain's Conservative government was shaken when John Profumo was forced to resign as war minister after admitting he lied to the House of Commons to cover up his affair with Christine Keeler. Miss Keeler, a prostitute, was also having an affair with a Soviet intelligence agent.

Full Of Africa

WASHINGTON (AP) — G. Mennen Williams, outgoing assistant secretary of state for African affairs, in an emotional farewell to ambassadors of African countries said Friday "our hearts are full of Africa."

Williams and his wife, Nancy, received the heads of African diplomatic missions in their Georgetown home.

Judy Lynn's Condition Fair

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Parents of little Judy Lynn Funsch hoped and prayed today, because that was all anyone could do for the 5-year-old.

But Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Funsch of Flint were not alone in pulling for their daughter's recovery from delicate, six-hour heart surgery Thursday. Messages of cheer and good will poured in from across the country.

Judy's condition was fair, and University of Michigan Hospital said she appeared holding her own, but the outcome still is in doubt and may be for several days.

The operation was to correct a rare affliction that had plagued the child since birth and which doctors said would have killed her in a few years. Despite her five years, she weighed only 28 pounds.

Surgery primarily was to remove an obstruction in Judy's pulmonary vein which carries oxygenated blood from the right lung to the heart, but physicians said they also shut an open valve that should have closed at birth.

While operating, doctors found Judy had no pulmonary vein connecting her left lung with her heart, which means that will be inoperative in blood oxygenation. A hospital spokesman remarked, however: "There are a lot of adults getting along pretty good with one lung."

The child's parents, maintaining an around-the-clock vigil and allowed minute-or-two visits hourly, reported noting a steady improvement in Judy's alertness and color.

HANDLE WITH CARE

For lack of food in other countries, precious lives are lost, millions damaged in body and mind. You safeguard the hungry, share our plenty, through CARE's Food Crusade.

Every dollar you give sends one package, an average 27 lbs. Our Government helps by donating farm abundance as Food for Peace. With your money CARE adds other foods; packs units to match country needs; delivers your packages as personal gifts, with your name and address.

School children and toddlers, refugees, war and disaster victims, destitute families—all will know they have friends in America. One, five, 10 — multiply your dollars for bargains in kindness — $100 sends a ton of food!

Your Food Crusade gifts are directed to the neediest by CARE's American staff. You may select:

Afghanistan / British Honduras / Chile / Colombia / Cyprus / Dominican Republic / Ecuador / Greece / Haiti / Hong Kong / India / Iran / Jordan / Korea / Macau / Pakistan / Poland / Sierra Leone / Turkey / Tunisia / South Vietnam / Yugoslavia.

Soo Hill PTA Hears Talk By State Police

A Fathers' Night program was held by the Soo Hill PTA on Thursday night, with State Police Troopers Donald Davidson and Howard Houlette the speakers. They were introduced by Mrs. Hubert Irving, program chairman.

Mouth to mouth resuscitation is the simplest and most effective method of artificial respiration, the officers reported. It is used not only in drownings but for victims of carbon monoxide poisoning, drug poisoning, electric shock and heart attacks.

"It is imperative to begin artificial respiration immediately as brain damage may occur after five minutes of respiration stoppage," Trooper Davidson said.

Charles Fletcher, Troop 405 Boy Scout Master and Assistant Scout Master Clifford Larson conducted the candle-light ceremony followed by presentation of tenderfoot badges to Emil Johnson, Joseph Gelina, Jeff Jennings, Dan Bergeon, Jeff Kallio, Kim Bushey, Allan Larson, Mark Jackson, Dave Anderson, Bill Whitney, Bruce Bender, David Derouin, Dean Swanson, Arne Anderson, Jack Thomma, Gary Bergeon and Paul Swanson.

Chairman of the nominating committee, Mrs. Lester Kamin presented the 1966-67 slate of PTA officers: President Mrs. Keith Mattson; first vice president, Edward Terres; second vice president, Mrs. Richard Johnson; secretary, Richard Johnson; treasurer, Mrs. Marvin Anderson; historian, Mrs. Lester Kamin; program chairman, Mrs. Leo Evans; publicity co-chairmen, Mrs. Robert Capert and Mrs. John Stiglitz with Mrs. Stanley Johnson as alternate; lunch chairman, Mrs. Carl Mattson; Council delegating, Mrs. John Anderson, Mrs. Hugo Mattson and alternates Keith Mattson and John Anderson and membership chairman, Mrs. Stanley Benoit.

Commendation was given William Sundberg, sixth grade teacher, for his management of Soo Hill basketball team and formulation of the sixth grade newspaper.

Mrs. Frank Bender, library chairman, reported the acquisition of 100 additional library books from the State Library. Library duties were performed by assistants Mrs. John Stiglitz and Mrs. Kermit Bender.

Brownies Vickie Johnson, Susan Lynaugh, Kim Servant, Marlene Anderson, Tina Garbe, Danette Mills, Myra Anderson, Judith Anderson, Debbie Caron and Linda Evans with the guidance of leader Mrs. Gordon LeClaire; and Girl Scouts Cheryl Lynaugh, Mary Cappert, Carvie Mosier, Wendy Peterson, Cheryl LeClaire, Julie Sinnavee, Cindy Matthews, Carol Bergeon, Carol Buehler, Mary Kallio, Donna Doutree, Bonnie Peterson, Carls Fletcher and Michelle Everson under the leadership of Mrs. Gordon LeClaire and Mrs. Louis Buehler, presented a program.

THE ENGAGEMENT of their daughter, Linda, to Robert Dugas of Kenosha, Wis. is announced by Mr. and Mrs. John Dugas of 200 S. 22nd St., Escanaba. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Dugas Sr. of Bark River. A July 16 wedding is planned by the couple. (Lee's Studio)

Hints from Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I dyed my bathroom curtains again, but this time I also dyed a couple of rugs and towels to match.

Seems like a new bathroom.

Nina Weiss

Dear Heloise:

My vacuum cleaner hadn't picked up dirt and lint like it should for weeks.

Today I set out to do something about it.

I took some wire and pushed it through the hose. To my surprise a rock fell out, plus some lint and strings.

Now my old vacuum picks up dirt and lint like a new one, and I love it — and you!

C. L.

Thanks, shug! I love you, too! And, did you know you could attach the hose to the blowing end of your vacuum, hold your hand on the end of the tube a minute, remove your hand, and that nearly anything would BLOW out? Do this outdoors or head the hose into a paper sack when you take your hand off. No telling what's gonna come out.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

I worked in a dairy where we had a wooden lunch board. Here's the way we cleaned it: We scrubbed the board with a brush, using soap and water. After drying it well, we rubbed cider vinegar on it. This process made it real white and clean.

Fellowship Meets At Rapid River

A St. Patrick Day theme decorated the lunch table at the recent Women's Fellowship meeting of Rapid River Congregational Church. A large green St. Pat. hat decorated the main dining table and the colorful dessert served by hostesses Mrs. George Wilbee and Mrs. Pete Adams completed the festive table arrangement.

The Fellowship will sponsor a bakeless bake sale Saturday, March 19. All donations are to be paid to treasurer, Mrs. Naomi Waters. The group will contribute funds for the church's summer camp program.

Mrs. Charles Bowen and Mrs. Wesley Horning will attend the United Church of Christ leadership conference for Women Fellowship officers at Flint, March 25-27.

net the color of a girl's bedroom wall makes a lovely, strong and almost invisible bulletin board.

My niece had an area from ceiling to floor covered with this net, to which all kinds of keepsakes were pinned, and not a place was torn.

Best of all is that we women can put net up without waiting for the man of the house to come home and frame and nail up a real board!

A Reader

Dear Heloise:

Here is a way to keep the straps on pants worn by little boys or girls from falling off their shoulders:

Cross the straps in the back, and put grip snaps where they cross.

I have done this often, and it works very well.

Boddy's Royals Rally To Defeat Wakefield

By RAY CRANDALL
(Press Sports Editor)

MARQUETTE — Coach Fred Boddy's Marquette Bishop Baraga Royals won the big one here last night. Well, it wasn't the big one. But it wasn't a small one, either. It was a pretty big one.

Baraga stormed from behind in the fourth quarter to knock defending champion Wakefield out of the Upper Peninsula Class C regional tournament, 71-65.

Baraga's 21st victory in 22 starts vaults the Royals into tonight's championship faceoff against L'Anse at 7 at the Northern Michigan University fieldhouse. L'Anse eliminated Houghton, 76-59, in yesterday's other semifinal contest.

Black First Half

Things looked mighty bleak for Boddy's quint in the first half. Wakefield was dominating the boards and driving for the easy short shots. Coach Jim Daniels' eagers scrapped to a 25-20 lead in the first quarter and upped the margin to 42-33 at halftime.

But classy little Bruce Pesola, Baraga's non-stop veteran guard, still had a few tricks up his sleeve. Pesola pumped in a pair of field goals to open the second half and Baraga battled back into contention, outscoring the Cardinals 21-15 to narrow the deficit to 57-54 entering the final quarter.

It didn't stay that way long as Pesola found the range from deep in the corner. He rang the bell with four straight shots and the Royals took a 62-61 lead with 5:30 to go in the game. Pesola added a point off a technical foul on Wakefield's Bill Lehotsky. Jim Connors tossed in four straight free throws on 1-and-1 situations and Baraga suddenly had a 67-61 bulge with four minutes remaining.

Inkala Fouls Out

The Royals controlled the action the rest of the way as Wakefield was forced to come out for the ball. The Cards scored a consolation field goal in the closing seconds to narrow the final gap to six points.

Personal fouls played a vital role in the game as Wakefield's 6 foot 5 inch junior star, Al Inkala picked up his fourth early in the second period and then drew his fifth with 4:44 remaining in the game. The Cards also lost Lehotsky with 50 seconds left. John Leanes and Tom Alholm of Baraga also fouled out in the fourth frame.

Pesola connected on 14 of 23 attempts from the floor and four of six from the foul line for 32 points and individual scoring honors. Connors and Leanes also reached double figures with 15 and 10.

Inkala and Lehotsky paced Wakefield with a combined 32 points as the Cardinals shot 49 per cent from the field with 24 goals in 49 attempts. The Royals hit on 26 of 56 for 46 per cent. Wakefield had a 42-37 edge in rebounds.

Take Early Lead
In the L'Anse-Houghton game the Purple Hornets pulled to a quick 7-2 lead in the first quarter and were never headed. Coach Fritz Wilson's Grenlins got within seven points midway in the fourth period but faded in the stretch.

Four players accounted for all of the L'Anse points with Gerry Gerard leading the way with 23. Toivo Salo paced Houghton with 18. The Grenlins were outscored by only two field goals, 29-27, but got only five chances from the free throw line. They made all five of them but were far short of L'Anse's 18 of 24.

Rouge Stays Alive
By The Associated Press
River Rouge, Michigan Class B basketball champion the last five years, almost found itself in the unusual position of winding up on the outside looking in Friday night.

But thanks to some last-minute heroics and 10 points in an overtime session by Frank Price, the Panthers stayed alive in the state tournament with a 60-57 victory over Romulus.

Seven regional champions were crowned Friday night, six of them in Class A, as the preppers moved into the final stages of the second week of play.

East Detroit, top rated in Class A, advanced to the quarterfinals with a 43-27 triumph over Mount Clemens, while Ann Arbor (No. 8) ousted Jackson Parkside (No. 10), 72-61, in another A game.

Mumford Pulls Upset
East Detroit and Ann Arbor are the only rated teams still in contention among the state's biggest schools.

Detroit Mumford surprised Northwestern (No. 6), 75-73, with the help of 21 free throws in the final quarter, and East

Eskymos Face Long Road Home After 99-70 Regional Defeat

GRAND RAPIDS—The road home looked longer again today for the Escanaba Eskymos.

For the fourth time in five years, the Eskymos were eliminated from the State Class A basketball tournament in regional competition at Godwin Heights gym Friday night.

Once they reached the regional finals before bowing. Three other times they were ambushed in their first start.

Powerful Grand Rapids Catholic Central ran its record to 17-2 Friday night, outgunning Escanaba 99-70 in a game of flurries. The victory sent the Cougars starters rolled to a 77-48 advantage early in the fourth quarter before reserves from both teams took over and matched baskets the rest of the way.

Miller dropped in seven field goals and a pair of free throws to pace Escanaba with 16 points. Bob Myrvall, who was inserted in the lineup in the second quarter in an effort to stop Catholic's rebounding strength, netted 12 points.

They were the only Eskymos in double figures on a poor shooting night. Escanaba made only 28 of 77 shots from the field for a below average 36 per cent. The Eskymos also had trouble from the foul stripe, missing eight of 10 shots in the first half.

Six straight gift shots by Bob Haack in the closing minutes brought their game total to 14 of 26.

Grand Rapids Catholic, led by Sherwood who averaged 27.3 points per game in leading Grand Rapids City League scoring, connected on 37 of 84 shots for 44 per cent from the field. The Cougars also pumped in 25 of 37 free throws, many coming in pairs on one-and-one situations.

Sherwood finished with 25 points, 19 in the first half, to take scoring honors for the winners. Forward Ted Hillary, who sparked the Cougar fast break with pinpoint passing and drives, connected for 18 points. Starters Bob Howald and Terry Bocian each contributed 15 points in a balanced attack.

Cougars, winner over last year's Escanaba outster Grand Rapids Ottawa Hills in district play, into tonight's regional finals against Grand Rapids Central.

Central turned back Grand Rapids Union 63-59 in last night's opener.

The Eskymos traded baskets with the Cougars for half of the first period, gaining ties at 2-2, 4-4, 6-6, and 8-8, before 6-foot-5 center Bob Sherwood and 6-foot-3 forward Ted Hillary led a flurry of 10 straight points that pushed Catholic to an 18-8 lead. Escanaba never got back in the ball game as the Cougars ran their fast break offense to perfection and the Eskymos failed to hit the basket on return rushes.

After a jump shot by Rick Kuchenberg narrowed the gap to 26-19 at the start of the second quarter, Grand Rapids blasted away to outscore Escanaba 18-6 in the next five minutes.

Michigan Starts Football Drills, 9 Starters Gone
ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan football coach Bump Elliott will begin his search for replacements for nine graduating starters when the Wolverines open spring football practice Monday.

Elliott expects some 90 candidates at the first drills. Following Monday's opener, sessions will be held four days a week, winding up with the annual intrasquad game April 16.

Although 26 lettermen will be returning, five starters from the offensive unit and four from the defense will have to be replaced.

Dick Vidmer is the only returning quarterback. Rick Volk, a defensive halfback last year, will be given a try but his action may be limited by recovery from recent knee surgery.

Hits 33 Points
Ken Parrish scored 33 points in a losing cause for Cheboygan as Tom Carter's free throw—the only point of the overtime period — with one second remaining enabled Ithaca to eke out a 52-51 decision in another Class B game.

Conrad Kroglecki spearheaded Orchard Lake St. Mary's 86-68 victory over Perry with 39 points in Class C; Larry Smith scored 33 points as Flint Holy Redeemer clubbed Bath, 84-40; and Leslie, trailing throughout the game, scored seven points in the last minute to nip Clinton, 68-65, in Class C games, in some of the others.

The remaining 25 regional champions will be decided today.

Snatch Victory
Russell, the college basketball

Player of the Year, was held to 24 points, well under his season average of 31, but when the chips were down the Wolverines' star came through with the two-pressure points that snatched victory from the inspired Hilltoppers from Bowling Green, Ky.

Ohio Valley champion Western Kentucky gave Michigan fits with an old-fashioned 3-2 zone defense and held an eight-point lead early in the second half at 51-43.

However, although Russell was stymied by Western Kentucky's zone, Michigan had pulled into a 54-53 lead before the second half was five minutes old.

Thereafter, Michigan continued to hold a slight margin until, with 27 seconds left, Steve Cunningham popped in a jump shot to put Western Kentucky ahead 79-78.

It seemed Western Kentucky had wrapped up an upset of the No. 9 ranked Wolverines until Greg Smith brought his arm down on Russell on a jump ball with 11 seconds left and Cazzie coolly dropped in the tying and decisive freethrows while a University of Iowa crowd of 11,500 kept roaring.

Upset Loyola
Western Kentucky, which last Monday upset fourth ranked Chicago Loyola in an NCAA Midwest preliminary round, was led by Cunningham with 24 points and Wayne Chapman with 22.

Russell Rescues Michigan With Two Pressure Shots

By The Associated Press

Cool, calm Cazzie Russell and his University of Michigan teammates get their chance to upset the University of Kentucky, the No. 1 college basketball team in the country, in the quarter-finals of the NCAA championship tourney tonight.

Russell, a two-time All-American and the college basketball Player of the Year, sank two free throws in the last 11 seconds to give Michigan an 80-79 victory over Western Kentucky in the Midwest regional at Iowa City, Iowa, Friday night.

Kentucky, seeking a record fifth national championship, also rallied to defeat Dayton 86-79 behind a 34-point spree by All-American Louie Dampier, 22 of them in the second half.

Duke Wins
Duke, Texas Western and Kansas, the second, third and fourth teams in the final Associated Press poll of the season, also gained the quarter-finals along with Syracuse, Utah and Oregon State in the other regional play at Raleigh, N.C., Lubbock, Tex., and Los Angeles. Jack Marin sank four free throws in the last 25 seconds to give Duke a 76-74 triumph over the fifth-ranked St. Joseph's Hawks of Philadelphia in the East regional at Raleigh. Syracuse routed Davidson 94-78 behind the all-around brilliance of All-American Dave Bing.

Texas Western came from 10 points back to beat seventh-ranked Cincinnati 78-70 in overtime in the Midwest regional at Lubbock on Willie Cager's five vital points in the extra period. Kansas wiped out a 55-57 Southern Methodist lead to whip the Mustangs 76-70.

Jerry Chambers scored an arena record of 40 points at UCLA's Pauley Pavilion in Los Angeles to pace Utah over the University of Pacific 83-74. Oregon State, behind by 30-28 at the half, took a 10-point lead in the second half and defeated Houston 63-60.

Oklahoma Baptist and Georgia Southern battle tonight for the NAIA championship at Kansas City.

Jimmy Rose's 14-foot jump shot in the last nine seconds gave Georgia Southern an 89-88 victory over Norfolk State in their semifinal Friday night.

Three injuries, two of them to pitchers, were reported by the Detroit Tigers Friday as they prepared to open the Grapefruit League season in their new park.

Outfielder Don Demeter will be sidelined for at least a week by the recurrence of an old shoulder injury.

Bill Monbouquette, one of three pitchers scheduled to work against the Minnesota Twins today in the first game at Marquette Stadium, reported with a badly swollen left arm, the result of a severe reaction to a flu shot.

Manager Charlie Dressen named Julio Navarro and John Hiller as the backup men for Monbouquette, who insisted he would be ready to pitch.

Mickey Lolich was named to replace Hank Aguirre in Sunday's game with the Twins at Orlando after Aguirre complained of a stiffness in his left forearm.

Demeter, who said he hadn't been bothered by the shoulder all winter, explained that he might "have thrown too hard to soon. I thought I was all over this injury."

Demeter, who has lost his starting assignment in center-field to Mickey Stanley, has played first and third base in the team's squad games. He said he had been unable to throw hard for a week.

Aguirre said his arm had been sore since he pitched three innings in Wednesday's squad game. Dressen named Dave Wickersham and Larry Sherry as the other pitchers in Sunday's game.

Temporary bleachers were erected along the left field line in anticipation of an overflow crowd for today's inaugural game at the new stadium. The park seats 5,000.

Rugged Red Devils Stamped Newberry

MARQUETTE — If Ironwood doesn't win the Upper Peninsula Class B basketball crown tonight, watch out for the Red Devils in football next fall.

Coach Gene Farrell's quint staged one of the roughest, toughest performances in the history of the U. P. regionals to sidetrack the cinderella Newberry team in the semifinals, 74-60.

In the other semi played before a packed house Friday night the Ishpeming Hematites rallied from an eight point deficit in the third period to catch the Menominee Maroons, 78-71.

Ironwood's defense could best be described as assault with intent to harm — and it did. The Red Devils employed an aggressive pressing defense from the opening tipoff. They attacked the man with the ball from all angles and succeeded in pilfering the sphere a dozen times. They committed 21 personal fouls but you couldn't convince the Indians that the figure shouldn't have been twice as high.

Indians Stage Rally
Coach Jim Depew's Newberry outfit got off to a bad start and trailed 9-3 early in the first period. But the Indians gained confidence as the game progressed and they stunned the Red Devils and the fans by moving into a 23-22 lead in the first minutes of the second half. They hung on to trail by only a point, 33-32, at the intermission.

Ironwood's Michigan-Wisconsin Conference co-champs opened the gap in the third period and pulled steadily away through the fourth.

Big Guy Kangas led four Red Devils in double figures with 28 points, banging in 11 of 21 shots from the field and 6 of 10 from the line. Newberry's 6-foot-3 Tom Watson hit 26 points and little Roger Nor-koli added 17.

Ishpeming and Menominee tangled in a classic struggle in which the lead changed hands nine times in the second quarter alone.

Zhukie Sparks Team
The Maroons took command in the third period behind three clutch buckets by freshman Dewey Bellis to lead 47-39. But Ishpeming's hustling Bill Zhukie sparked a stirring comeback that knotted the score at 59-59 with 6:04 remaining in the game.

Zhukie's ball hawking play rattled the Maroons in the stretch and the Hematites sprinted in the final three minutes in spite of losing starters Paul Valyanti and Alan Ameen on personal fouls.

The Hematites shot a hot 45 per cent against the Maroons, canning 32 of 70 field goals and they added 14 of 18 from the line. Zhukie led the way with 30 points. He connected on 11 of 19 floor attempts and 8 of 10 from the lane. Bill Parkkonen and Alan Morrison gave him strong support with a combined 35 points and 20 rebounds.

Ucke Scores 27
Slick Jim Ucke was the Maroon standout with 27 points and a dozen rebounds. Sophomore Pat Miller and freshman Bellis each contributed 16 points and Miller was the game's top rebounder with 15. Fred Matz also reached double figures for Menominee with 10. The Maroons shot 39 per cent (26 of 66) and tossed in 19 of 27 gift opportunities.

Ishpeming, champion of the Great Lakes Conference, enters tonight's title contest with a 17-3 record. Ironwood is 18-2.

Chualo Signs To Battle Clay For World's Title

TORONTO (AP) — Cassius Clay's television rating may match George Chualo's ring rating when the final chapter of boxing's dizziest heavyweight title saga comes off March 29.

Chualo, a ready, willing and vulnerable campaigner from Toronto, stepped in as Clay's playmate for the on-again-off-again championship bout Friday after original challenger Ernie Terrell bowed out in a contract dispute.

The pairing of unbeaten Clay and often-beaten Chualo threatens to turn what had loomed as a $5 million bonanza into a financial bomb. Estimates of the gross receipts have sagged to a questionable $500,000, with closed-circuit television the big loser.

Main Bout Inc., which originally had some 280 theaters set to show the fight, lost over 100 exhibitors during a frantic, cross-country flight in search of a site. Wary of Terrell's reported connections with unsavory characters and shocked by Clay's intemperate outburst over his reclassification in the draft, half a dozen American and Canadian cities rejected the fight.

Toronto finally won approval to stage the bout, but Terrell, the World Boxing Association titleholder, found the terms of the contract unacceptable and pulled out Thursday.

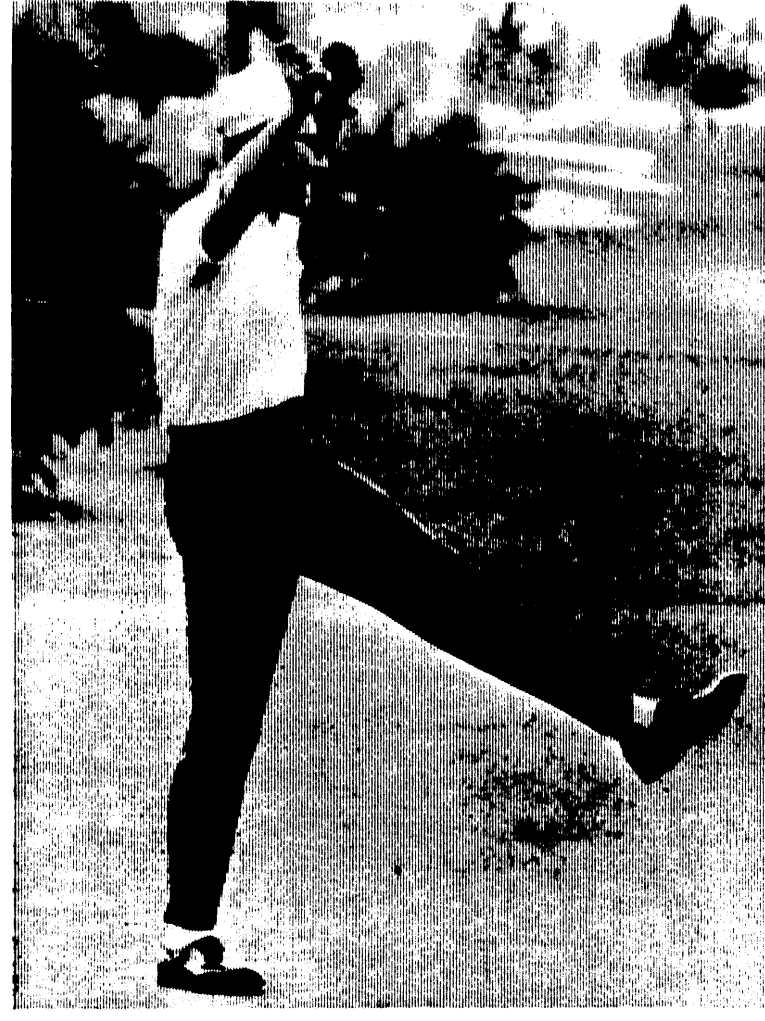

Now the guess is that as few as 20 theaters remain on the television hook-up and the estimated $4 million television take has all but disappeared.

Chualo's chances of dethroning Clay appear even more bleak than the television picture.

Tagged "The Washerwoman" by Clay, he is ranked No. 10 by the WBA, has a mediocre 30-11-2 record and has dropped two of his last three fights.

The 205-pound Canadian lost a 10-round decision to little known Eduardo Corleto of Italy his last time out. He has been beaten by Terrell, by Floyd Patterson, by Tony Alonti and by Pete Rademacher.

New York oddsmakers rate Clay a prohibitive favorite at 5-1 and out. The WBA will not recognize the fight as a championship match.

KERMIT ZARLEY of Yakima, Wash., retained his one-shot lead in the $100,000 Doral Open Golf tournament at Miami, Fla., Friday by firing an even-par 72. That gave him a 36-hole total of 137, seven under par. Tied at 138 are Frank Beard, Jay Dolan, Johnny Pott and Phil Rodgers. Arnold Palmer and George Archer have 139's. ## Hostile Press Braves' Issue

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Was the Milwaukee press hostile toward the Braves and a factor in the club's decision to move to Atlanta?

Baseball attorneys say yes. The sports editors of the city's two newspapers say no.

Oliver E. Kuechle of the Journal and Lloyd Larson of the Sentinel were state witnesses Friday in the 10th day of the Circuit Court trial of Wisconsin's antitrust suit against baseball.

The action is based on the Braves' departure and the refusal of the National League to grant the city an expansion franchise. The trial is in weekend recess.

Submits Stories

Kuechle submitted columns, news stories, special editions and commendatory letters from Braves Board Chairman William Bartholomay, President John McHale and Birdie Tebbets, former executive vice president and latest manager, to back his contention.

He asserted the Journal was more than generous in its coverage and support of the Braves in their 13 years in Milwaukee.

Braves' lawyer, Earl Jinkinson, took sharp issue with the writers. He said Kuechle's columns showed prejudice toward baseball as well as the Braves owners and tended to favor football, particularly pro football. Moreover, Jinkinson accused Kuechle of deriding the game's leading figures.

Giles A 'Cherub'

Jinkinson, quoting from the columns, cited several examples. He said Warren Giles, president of the National League, was referred to by Kuechle as "a pink cheeked cherub," former baseball commissioner Ford Frick as "The Big Zerk," and former Braves owner Louis Perini as "Little Steam Shovel."

Jinkinson said the group of Chicago men, headed by Bartholomay, who purchased the Braves in 1962, were called "The Rover Boys," "The Carpet-Baggers," and "Scamp Owners."

Additionally, the attorney said, Kuechle described Giles, Frick and Joe Cronin, American League president, as "Wynny, Blynken and Nod," nursery rhyme characters.

Kuechle said literary license permitted writers to use colorful descriptions. And he denied that the terms were necessarily complimentary or unfriendly.

Cover Braves

The Braves' attorney, examining special baseball sections of the two newspapers, called attention to the advertising and suggested that the revenue lent a commercial aspect to the enterprise.

Both Kuechle and Larson testified that their newspapers assigned writers to cover the Braves both at home and on the road as well as in spring training.

Until recent years the Braves were one of the few teams, if not the only club, to have two writers with them on the road, the witnesses said.

The Journal and Sentinel are published by the same firm.

Roberts Excels In First Start On Astro Mound

By The Associated Press

When Robin Roberts arrived in the major leagues, Harry Truman had not been elected president, the Russians hadn't exploded an atomic bomb, and the Korean War had not begun.

Roberts, now 39 years old, is seeking another year on the job, and he triggered his campaign Friday with a near-perfect performance in Cocoa, Fla.

The Houston pitcher-coach allowed only an infield single to Danny Cater in three innings as the Astros blanked the Chicago straight exhibition victory.

Roberts, who started his major league career in 1948, struck out two and didn't walk anyone in his first appearance under fire since bone chips were removed from his elbow this winter.

The winningest right-hander among active pitchers, Roberts is testing his arm during spring training to determine whether the Astros will have to find a spot for him on the roster. If he doesn't make it, he will be a pitching coach.

But if early indications mean anything, the one-time Philadelphia Phillie star will make his 19th year an active one and try to extend his record of 281 victories.

Roberts pitched the first three innings Friday, and Larry Dierker and Danny Coombs completed the shutout. Joe Morgan's single and Doug Rader's triple drove in the Astros.

Four Baltimore pitchers combined for a one-hit, 5-0 triumph over Minnesota. Steve Barber, Moe Drabowsky and Dick Hall held the Twins hitless through eight innings, but Bernie Allen led off the ninth with a single off Don Larsen. Brooks Robinson hit a two-run homer in the first.

Veteran Vernon Law and rookie Woodie Fryman each pitched three scoreless innings as Pittsburgh downed Boston 5-2. Law also singled across a run in the second inning.

A two-run homer by Leo Cardenas snapped a tie and carried Cincinnati past Philadelphia 4-2. Deron Johnson also homered for the Reds.

In Mexico City, Cleveland bombed the Mexico City Reds 8-1 behind the home runs of Leon Wagner and Chico Salomon.

Another White Sox team defeated Kansas City 5-1 as the Athletics made four errors.

CMU's Kjolhede Coach Of Year

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Ted Kjolhede of Central Michigan University at Mount Pleasant, Mich., was named Basketball Coach of the Year by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics Friday.

Kjolhede, in his 10th season at Central Michigan, directed his team to a 23-6 record, best in the school's history.

His team won its first round game in the current national tournament in Kansas City and lost to Oklahoma Baptist 90-70 in the second round.

Cazzie Puts Up Another Record

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan All-America Cazzie Russell, Dave Schellhase of Purdue and Illinois' Don Freeman dominated the Big Ten basketball scoring race in final statistics released Friday.

Russell's average of 13 field goals a game set a record and broke the mark of 12.4 by Gary Bradds of Ohio State in 1964.

Schellhase's 57 points against Michigan broke the record of 56 held by Jimmy Rayl of Indiana and his 23 field goals in the same game tied a Big Ten record.

Freeman's average of 25.9 field goal attempts erased the previous record of 25.8.

Russell's field goal percentage of .542 topped the league as did his 33.2 per-game scoring average.

Russell and Schellhase became the only players in Big Ten history to top the 2,000 point mark in a three-year career. Russell scored 2,111 points in 78 games and Schellhase had 2,074 in 72 games.

Jim Pitts of Northwestern was the league's leading rebounder with a 15.2 game average.

AFL Official Dies On Court

BROOKFIELD, Wis. (AP) — Jim Barnhill, 45, a veteran American Football League official and newspaperman, died Friday night after collapsing while refereeing a high school basketball game.

Barnhill, past president of the Kenosha, Wis., News, was pronounced dead at Waukesha Memorial Hospital.

Barnhill, a past president of the Golden Gloves Association of America, had been an AFL official since 1960. He was one of the referees at last December's league championship game in San Diego.

Photo Finishes Common In NCAA Track Opener

DETROIT (AP) — A Finn set a record, Southern University was barred and photo finishes were common in the opening round of the two-day National Collegiate Track Championships.

Blond Rainer Stenius of Finland, a senior at Los Angeles State, bettered the meet record in the long jump by half a foot Friday night when he leaped 25 feet, 7 inches. The old mark of 25-1 was set by Maryland's Mike Cole at last year's inaugural championships.

Preliminaries had barely started when NCAA officials notified Southern University's tracksters that they had been scratched due to the failure of the Louisiana school to comply with a recently adopted 1.6 grade average requirement.

Southern had figured to be a leading contender in today's mile relay event and was given a good chance to capture the 440 yard run Friday.

An NCAA spokesman said the university's administrators had given no indication that they were even interested in complying with the new scholastic ruling.

The incident was the latest episode involving the controversial academic standard. Ivy League schools have collectively defied the NCAA on the issue.

Friday's crowd of 7,500 saw another meet record fall when Kansas State's Conrad Nightingale posted a 4:07.7 in the qualifying heats for the mile run. The previous mark was 4:08 set in 1965 by Chris Johnson of Southern California.

Team standings after five events saw Kansas leading the pack with seven points, followed by Boston College with six.

Ten more finals were scheduled for today, including the 60-yard high hurdles events. In Friday's preliminary heats, no fewer than six qualifiers tied the meet record of 7.2 seconds set last year by Michigan State's Gene Washington.

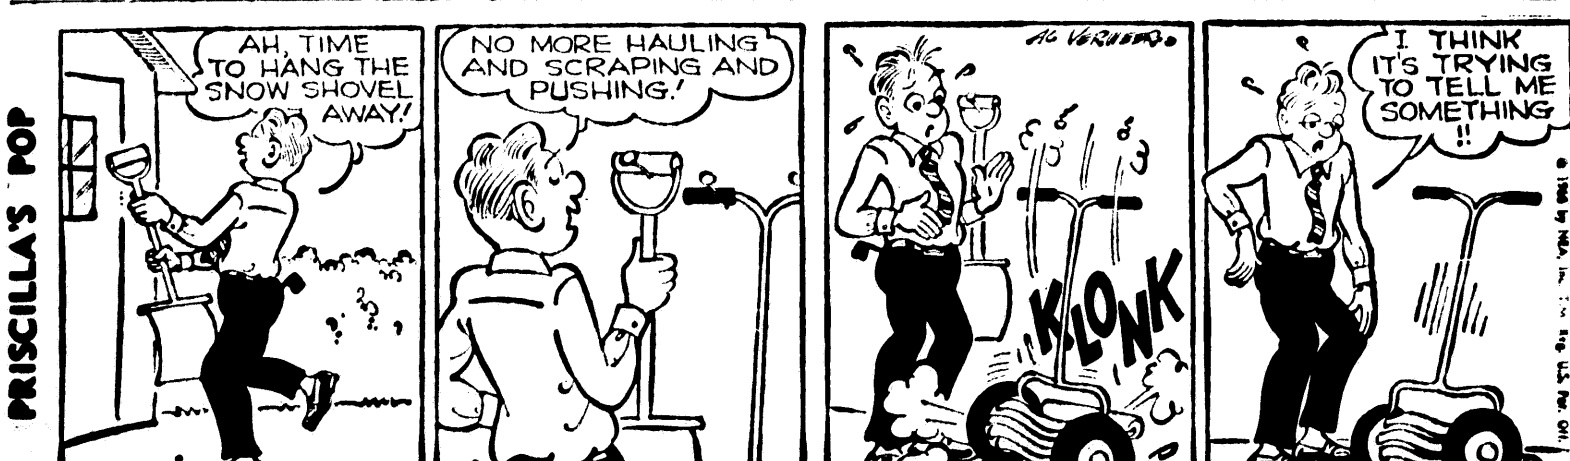

In an invitational mile run, Jim Ryan, Kansas freshman, outran the field at 4:03.3.

Bob Mead of Manhattan captured the 35-pound weight throw, a new meet event, with a toss of 59 feet 1/2 inch; George Woods of Southern Illinois won the shot put with a 61-31/4 effort; and Ricardo Urbina of Georgetown won the 880-yard run in 1:51.9.

There was a tie for first-place honors in the 440-yard run, with Don Payne of Kansas State and Bill Calhoun of Oklahoma University posting identical times of 48.9 in separate heats.

In two other invitational, Kent Bernard of Ann Arbor, Mich., won a 600-yard run in 1:10.9, and Bob Steinhoff of Kansas led a four-man field in the pole vault at 15 feet 6 inches.

The National Basketball Association started keeping rebounding records in the 1950-51 season.

WHAT DOES HE SEE?

What a birthday present! Young Dan can see all sorts of things with that telescope that are invisible to the naked eye. The sky, with its stars and its moon, seems so much closer.

Yet, there is still so much that remains unseen. The best instruments man can make are insignificant when measured against the scope and depth of God's universe.

That's where faith comes in. We know that there are other galaxies that can't be seen through even the most powerful of telescopes. And we know, too, that faith, though invisible, is the greatest power of all.

If faith is something that doesn't quite come across to you, the Church is the best place in the world to help you solve its mystery. If faith is already yours—what better way is there to reaffirm it than by going to church this Sunday?

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.
